Title of Policy: Curriculum Integrity

Policy
The College is committed to providing quality, up-to-date curriculum, consistent with its mission. To assure the integrity, consistency, and validity of curriculum, all programs and courses delivered by Northwest Technical College—whether technical or general education—regardless of delivery mode (i.e., campus, online, custom, blended) shall be developed and implemented in compliance with Minnesota State policy and in conformance with the standards and criteria of the college’s approved curriculum model. Every course offered will have an approved Course Outline before delivery. Instructors teaching the course will customize that approved Course Outline into their own course syllabus, which will be provided to students within one week of the first class session, in accordance with Minnesota State Policy 3.22. Syllabi will contain all elements discussed in Minnesota State Policy 3.22. As addressed in Minnesota State Policy 3.36.1, syllabi will also discuss credit hour policy expectations and the number of hours the course will meet each week and the number of hours students are expected to work outside class. Courses offered in an alternative format (online, blended, compressed format, etc.) are expected to adhere to the same credit hour policy. The college will review compliance through peer and administrative oversight. Formal articulation agreements with other institutions of higher education will specify agreed upon course/program transfer opportunities that the faculty of the institutions have agreed consist of substantially equivalent learning outcomes.

In concert with the principles of continuous improvement, faculty will review programs and courses annually to ensure up-to-date curriculum. All new programs and courses, proposed revisions, including course additions and deletions, as well as articulation agreements, must be approved in accordance with established procedures of the Academic Affairs and Standards Council.
